NEW JEWELRY.—At Gowen's store may be found some very fine jewelry, fresh from the manufactory at Attleboro. The stock consists of chains, studs, buttons, etc., for ladies and gentlemen's wear. Call and see them.

ASSESSMENT.—An assessment of five cents per share is levied by the Hayward Consolidated Mining Company, delinquent on the 24th of August next.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday. They transacted but little business besides accepting the bridge recently built across the river at Dayton. A few bills were allowed.

SETTLE.—All those indebted to the undersigned for milk will take notice that I have leased my dairy. Payment of all accounts must be made before the first day of June to save costs. A. PERKINS.
Dayton, May 10, 1876.

"THE YOUNG MAN'S POCKET COMPANION" is the title given to a small book soon to be published by DR. H. WAGNER, providing 1,000 copies are subscribed for at $20 per volume. All who wish a copy are requested to call at No. 3 South C street, Virginia City, and get the merits of the remedies before subscribing for the same. It is a digest on venereal diseases.

NOTICE.—S. Cohn gives notice that on the 10th of next month he intends to go away, and meanwhile will sell out his stock of dry goods at less than cost. All persons owing him bills are requested to call and settle before that date and save cost.

CHARLEY EXPLAINS.—Indian Charley called in at our office yesterday and assumed an attitude of mingled injured innocence and lofty indignation. He said he came to demand an explanation of something that appeared in the paper. He did not exactly use that language, but emitted a mixture of Piate gibberish and broken English that meant the same thing. It is seldom that we are called upon to make a retraction. Being somewhat guarded in what we say in print, those who come around occasionally to demand redress and amends have an absorbing interest for us. We have during several years' experience made it a point always to receive such characters in as interesting a manner as possible, and to make the occasion as pleasant all around as would be compatible with the circumstances. Accordingly when Charley entered with war mirrored from his features and sanguinary rage flashing from his sable eyes, he was pointed to an empty cracker box and invited to sit down. He wanted to know who it was that wrote the piece which represented him as loser at monte with Indian Bob and as disconsolate and about to go out of business. When the author was brought face to face with him, unlike the average white man under the same circumstances, Charley did not draw a revolver and demand a retraction. He has not yet reached that high point in civilized life. He simply said it was "dam too bad," that "some man tell you dam lie 'bout me, you put in paper that's wrong." Charley continued in peaceful tones: "Capt Bob come Silver City see me two days. Bob he's my friend, you know. Bob's father, his name old man Scott—that what they called him, you know—he been my friend, too. He died two years ago. Bob's good boy—sometimes gambled little, that's all." Charley said he wanted it put before the people that he never gambled a cent. What other Indians might do he could not be responsible for. So far as he was concerned he was determined to maintain a clear record here and educate his boy. As we said that, inasmuch as during the ensuing political campaign, we intend to be fair with all but unsparring of the wrong, we give space to an explanation of his motives, actions and intentions.

ACCIDENTAL DROWNING.—A correspondent writes us from the Big Bend of the Carson to say that on Thursday last a man by the name of Daniel Barrier was drowned while trying to ford the river on horseback. He left his brother's ranch early in the morning to look for horses, and was not seen alive after. A man by the name of Cal Davis the next day was looking for cattle and came upon Barrier's horse, which was bestruck with mud and grazing about with saddle and bridle on. Some men who lived close by there made a search for the body and found it a short distance below where deceased attempted to cross the river, lodged against some driftwood. Barrier was highly respected in the community where he lived, and had a brother there who is a farmer.

COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—By a notice in another column it may be seen that a meeting of the county central committee is called by the secretary for Friday next. The committee was originally composed of five men, but two of them have moved away. The meeting will perhaps result in the choosing of two persons to fill those vacancies and the disposition of the matter of a primary election on the appointment of delegates to the State convention.

The Soldier's Widow.
CHICAGO, July 25.—Mrs. General Custer is still prostrated and confined to her bed at Bismarck. At first she was braver than any other, and visited the wounded at the hospital, but the trial was too great, and finally she succumbed and lay in a swoon for an hour or more. Other ladies at the post have forgotten for a time their own grief in ministering to her wants.

Evidently Sitting Bull is no ordinary Indian. He is said to be a man who has never been a party to any treaty with the whites, and has never resided at any of the agencies. His lieutenant is said to be a half-breed Sandwich Islander, who speaks a half dozen modern languages and all the Indian dialects, and is a man of high order of ability.

RETURNED.—Our neighbor, Mr. Becker, has returned from Steamboat Springs much improved in health.

The Schneider Mystery.

Mystery still surrounds the death of Geo. Schneider. The detectives of Virginia, assisted by Constable Noble of this place, have been working the case up. Thus far they have met with very little success in the way of clearing up the darkness. The general impression here seems to be that Schneider was not foully dealt with, but fell off the bridge and was killed by the fall. Yesterday Coroner Mayer of Storey County held an inquest upon the body of the deceased during which evidence was elicited which caused him to issue a warrant for the arrest of William Robinson on suspicion. Robinson came back here last night, having procured bail or been let off on his own recognizance. The following is his testimony before the Coroner's Jury.

ROBINSON'S TESTIMONY.

I reside in Silver City and am working in the Buckeye mine; I saw the deceased last Thursday for the first time in Virginia City; I came to this city to engage a team to go to Silver City on Thursday night to bring up a trunk and a sewing machine; I came on the street to where there were three or four express wagons; I asked the price of one to go to Silver; one man said $10; this man Schneider stepped forward and said $5; he asked me what time I wanted to go; I told him between 8 and 9 o'clock; when this man said $10, Schneider said "You God damn rascal, you have got me out of two or three jobs to-day, and I will get even with you for it," he told me I would find him at the Washoe Brewery; I changed my mind before I went to the Washoe Brewery, and concluded not to have them brought up until Saturday night; I stopped at the Washoe Brewery and told him of the change; I told him he need not come down till late, as I had business which would prevent me from coming till 12 or 1 o'clock; I saw Schneider in Haupt's saloon about 11 o'clock on Saturday night; I told him it would be an hour or probably more before I could go with him; he said, "All right—he was not in a hurry." I came to the saloon about one o'clock, and he had gone; Haupt told me that he had left there half an hour before; I went to Angell's stable and got a team there; I got a man named Johnson Kild to come with me and bring the sewing machine and trunk; we brought them to the owner, Mrs. Martin, who lodged on B street, at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday morning; I intended to send the things up on Thursday night, but Mrs. Martin was not stopping where I expected she was, and I could not direct him where to take them to without coming up along with him; I had to lay off work on Saturday night on some business in Silver and thought I could come up after I got through and have them brought to the house where she lived. I did not see the team of the deceased in the road when I came up.

MRS. MARTIN AND ROBINSON.

The woman mentioned in the foregoing by Robinson lived until recently in Sacoer Ravine. She lost her husband about a year ago and has since earned a meager support for herself and child with her sewing machine. During last winter she was for a time in destitute circumstances until some good neighbors, learning of her distress, brought her relief. The trunk and sewing machine which Robinson got the team to haul to Virginia were in danger of being attached for debt, and hence the reason for removing them in the night time. The woman for some time before she left here was unable to make a living, and consequently ran up a bill with one of our merchants. The merchant, after calling for his pay several times, threatened to attach the woman's effects. Therefore, perhaps, she resolved to have them removed outside of the county under cover of night. This may throw some light on the matter, and explain Robinson's connection with the removal of the sewing machine and trunks. Robinson has borne a good reputation here during a residence of considerable length of time.

NO EASTERN MAIL.—The reason why no Eastern mail was received here yesterday was because there was a big washout on the Central Pacific road at Osina, a station on the Humboldt division. The break was being repaired soon after it occurred and the mail will come through all right to-day, perhaps.

MAIL.—Day before yesterday Silver City was refreshed and cooled by a heavy hail storm. The hailstones were as large as pigeon's eggs, many of them, and the average was above the size of marbles. Enough fell to cover the ground.

VISITORS TO DAYTON.—A bus from Virginia and several carriages passed through Silver last evening on their way to Dayton. They were Odd Fellows who were going to pay their brethren by the river a fraternal visit.

FINGERS SHOT.—Johnny Burnell had a pistol ball sent through two fingers of his left hand day before yesterday. The bones were not broken. He was handling a toy pistol when it suddenly exploded.

A Joke on Munceton.

MARIETTA, Ohio, July 12.

EDITOR TIMES:

Thinking perhaps that you would like a local from the Buckeye State, I herewith send you the following: A delegate to the Cincinnati Convention from Silver City was recently visiting some relatives in Southern Ohio. One Sabbath he went to church, and being in the country, he did not expect an able and elegant sermon, but a good old sermon—one that would bring the memory of "Auld Lang Syne." After service he walked out and made the following remark to a gentleman standing in the yard: "That preacher is rather light weight, isn't he." The person addressed replied that he did not know, and the delegate from Nevada passed on to the carriage. In the afternoon he called on some ladies, his sister and cousin accompanying him. When they arrived one of the ladies was out riding, but she soon came back, and after remarks about various things, she laughingly said: "So you think our preacher is of light weight, do you?" The finale of all this is that it was the preacher's son who took the young lady out to ride, and it was no other than the preacher's son to whom he made the above remark in the church yard. WITNESS.

MURDER OR SUICIDE?—Last Saturday the section boss at Tamarack was run over and killed by a passing train. He was tied to the track with a rope. The engineer saw him, but not soon enough to stop the train. The man was killed instantly and badly mutilated. The rope with which he was tied was cut in several pieces. It is not known whether it is a murder or a suicide, but the prevailing opinion is that it was the latter. His name was Sylvester Pittman, and he was well known in Truckee, having been night yardmaster there. [Reino Journal.]
